A Spectacular Siyum

Rabbi Prupas's seventh grade talmidim and their fathers came to Yeshiva for a very special siyum. The class learned and re-viewed Perek Hakoneis twenty times. To celebrate, the boys learned bechavrusa with their fathers. The pieces of gemara that were shared were selected at random giving each talmid the opportunity to demonstrate complete knowledge of the entire Perek. The melodious kol Torah which filled the Beis Medrash was followed by a gourmet breakfast of bagels, scrambled eggs, lox and cream cheese. The Mashgiach, Rabbi Bamberger spoke eloquently, impressing his listeners with the importance of chazarah. Rabbi Bamberger also stressed the great accomplishments of the talmidim being celebrated that morning.

Not ones to rest on their laurels, the seventh graders have already moved on to Perek Hachovel. The class is doing chazarah on the new Perek as well, carrying their momentum into the new limud.

The talmidim also had the zechus of having Rabbi Bamberger farher them. He tested the students for close to an hour and expressed how impressed he was with their comprehensive knowledge of the perek.

Taking the Right Steps

Rabbi Plotzer, the sixth grade Rebbi paid a surprise visit to the first grade classroom. Rabbi Plotzker introduced the Shnayim Mikroh Program which he coordinates. The first graders were thrilled with both, the new program and the spontaneous dancing they shared with the sixth graders who came along to express their excitement for learning Torah.

Goal Oriented Learning

An exceptional group of eighth graders are really getting there in Mesechta Makkos. The eighth graders are learning the 3rd perek of Makkos and with the help of Rabbi Vilinsky, will finish the whole mesechta and be mesayim it. Some of the group will be making as many as four siyumim this year and will be invited to the Mesivta Siyum Hashana at the end of the year to celebrate their great accomplishment.

The eleventh graders introduced a new weekly Parsha Chaburas program which they will be participating in together with the eighth graders. Both grades are enthusiastically looking forward to the shared experience.

The Pre-1-A boys had so much fun in the snow, playing, running, sledding and more!

The Bracha of Excercise

When the 1st graders learned about the bracha of זיקה כפופים they “moved” right away to take action with a visit from Mendy Music who encouraged their participation in the fun and novel activity. The exercise class was the perfect motivational outlet given how the learning afterwards took place with so much extra geshmak.

Middle School Updates

“Novel Circles”

During novel circle, the boys enjoyed chips and salsa day and shared examples from their novels of good and bad behavior traits including supporting evidence. We continue to learn how to analyze characters and plot while exploring and hearing about many different novels. It’s no wonder that our reading levels are up!

“Targeted Feedback and Thoughtful Writing”

The boys in 6th and 7th grades are learning how to give targeted feedback to their partners on their writing. They share their work with each other and provide specific suggestions on what can be done more efficiently or with more focus on detail and flow. Also during the writing process, an alarm may sound and this is a signal for the boys to stop and write about a decision they have made to include or not include specific facts in their final pieces. The teachers then choose students to share out loud about what they have written. In this way, we are teaching the boys to be more thoughtful writers and researchers. We are learning to encourage each other and help each other in making these thoughtful decisions as we write.

Thank You N'shei for the special Rosh Chodesh fruit platter, it was really appreciated! The YKOR Faculty
